Youth, Rebellion and Coming of Age in Film

A season of films supported by BFI FAN and FilmHub Midlands

All shows 7:30

2nd September: Gentle, Angry, Women (Barbara Santi 2025)

Three young activists trace the legacy of Greenham Common Women's Peace protest forty years on and discover the alarming reality of British nuclear arms.

14th September: Quadrophenia (Franc Roddam 1979)

Quadrophenia follows Jimmy, a restless 1960s Mod whose search for identity spirals into conflict, heartbreak and disillusionment.

28th September: Bend it like Beckham (Gurinder Chadha 2002)

Jess, a British-Indian teenager, fights cultural expectations while chasing her dream of playing football.

12th October: Trainspotting (Danny Boyle 1996)

Renton and his friends tear through Edinburgh's heroin scene, chasing highs, dodging consequences and trying to outrun their own lives.

26th October: Carrie (Brian de Palma 1976)

Carrie, a shy teenager tormented at school and smothered at home, discovers terrifying telekinetic powers.

9th November: Psycho (Alfred Hitchcock 1960)

Marion Crane's disappearance leads a detective, a sister and a boyfriend to the eerie Bates Motel, where Norman Bates hides unsettling secrets.

23rd November: Gregory's Girl (Bill Forsyth 1980)

Gregory, a shy Scottish schoolboy, falls hopelessly for Dorothy, the star striker on the football team. His awkward, funny attempts to win her over lead him to an unexpected and much sweeter connection.
